From the Editor

I believe God created earth and its environment for the crown of His creation to inhabit with carefree joy and childlike abandon. With the advent of disobedience, we find ourselves still in the same place but with a few unalterable truths: hard work and toiling the land replaced carefree abandonment.

The places God created for us are varied and wonderful and we can choose to live from the hottest desert to the most arctic of regions; most of us prefer the comfortable zone in the middle. Due to modern politics our choices are sometimes limited by the place of our birth, and sometimes then we 'import' exotic reminders into our homes of places we dream about – enter the interior decorators!

We spend enormous amounts of money and time on finding the right spot for just the perfect home, to be decorated with the ideal balance of furniture and decorations. Sometimes we are even found to be bragging about stuff that will rot away after we're gone. But industries and careers are built around our pursuit of geographical and comfort perfection.

Jesus ignores all of this and spends an enormous amount of time on mountainsides, on the lake of Galilee, and walking the streets of Israel sleeping wherever He can find a place. His apparent disregard finds expression when He declares that He is going to prepare another place for us, since this earth is bound for destruction. Talk about a different perspective!

Learning to Discern

BY ANDRÉ & JENNY ROEBERT

As believers in a fallen world, we are involved in fighting the good fight of faith, every single day. Each circumstance we face demands a response from us, and our response pretty much determines the end result. Either we face the challenge with godly discernment, following the leading of the Holy Spirit within us, which will pave the way for victory and success. Or, we face the challenge with a reaction based on our emotions, of shock and hurt, fear or anger, or sometimes, just plain fatigue. This kind of reaction never brings the desired result, instead, it just heaps on more trouble, making the problem far more complicated than when it began. That's why being able to discern God's wisdom in every circumstance, over and above our warring emotions is key!

Now since godly discernment is being able to perceive and understand God's perfect will concerning a situation, we should probably pay attention to sharpening that spiritual skill as our choice weapon of combat in our fight of faith.

The Bible often refers to our spirit man needing good, disciplined training and exercise. In fact, it clearly states that without it, we simply won't get to the place where our spirit man is strong or dominant enough to take and keep control over our human nature. In other words, we really have to train our spiritual senses to dominate our emotions, especially when the going gets tough and our feelings can easily spiral out of control, confusing us to the point where we don't know what God's will is in the matter anymore.

Hebrews 5:14 says we can train our senses to discern between good and evil. What it means is that we can train our senses to perceive and understand what is good (of God) and what is evil (of the enemy) as easily as if it was second nature to us.

How do we go about training our senses to do this? Through spiritual exercise!

You see, anyone who wants to get into good spiritual shape has to be diligent to exercise himself spiritually. This is why the apostle Paul told Timothy, in 1 Timothy 4:7, to exercise himself unto godliness.

The word "exercise" is the Greek word gymnos, and is literally translated naked. You see, Paul was describing how the athletes of that time used to train naked, having nothing around their bodies that would hinder them or trip them up while they were training.

Paul was telling Timothy that to become spiritually fit and skilled in discernment, he had to strip himself of all mentalities and thought process that would hinder his growth and development in the Lord.

Paul knew that if Timothy stripped wrong attitudes from his life and approached challenges with the right attitude: The hardships he faced wouldn't hurt him but rather would assist in developing him and making him stronger. The only way we can strip ourselves of incorrect thought processes and attitudes is by habitually meditating on the Word of God! We have to renew our minds to think God's thoughts and have His perspectives - instead of our own.

When Paul said, "...exercise thyself rather unto godliness." The word "godliness" is the Greek word that describes piety, godliness, or a radical, fanatical devotion. In other words, Paul was telling Timothy, "Don't do just the average that others would do and get an average result. Put your whole heart and soul into developing yourself to the maximum level."

By purposefully, wholeheartedly, and habitually meditating on the Word of God, praying in the Spirit, and spending time fellowshiping with the Lord, we train our senses to discern what is of God and what is not. We become so familiar with what God's heart and thoughts are that we easily hear and recognise the voice and leading of the Holy Spirit inside of us.

Let's not put this 'resolution' off any longer! Daily spiritual exercise in the word of God will bring our lives into submission to the Spirit and have our senses trained and in fine tune to the voice of God. This way we will be able to clearly hear His wisdom, over and above any other voice of reason or confusion. And when we pay attention to that wisdom, peace and joy flood our hearts and minds, giving us the assurance we need to go ahead and act on that wisdom and obey what it tells us to do. Choosing God's wisdom above all other reasoning always positions us for success and victory, because its supernatural power will cause every natural obstacle to fall in line with the will of God.

Make the choice today to step into this spiritual training program, where our senses will be fine-tuned and skilled to discern God's wisdom all the time! ➡

Making the most of your Time

BY JOYCE MEYER

We all have the same amount of time – 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. And the longer I live, the more I discover that time is too valuable for us to waste any of it. That's why it is so important that we learn to live on purpose, for a purpose.

The truth is if you make wise decisions now, you will have a better future. But if you waste your time now, you will have regrets. And regrets are terrible because you can't go back and do anything about them.

That's why we need to do the right thing when we have the opportunity to do it instead of blaming our circumstances or how we were raised or how the world is for the way that we live. We can learn how to co-operate with God and make changes that will make something good happen in our lives.

ARE YOU A PARTICIPATOR OR SPECTATOR?

Ephesians 3:20 is an exciting verse people like because it says God "is able to [carry out His purpose and] do superabundantly more than all that we dare ask or think [infinitely beyond our greatest prayers, hopes, or dreams]" (AMP). But if we stop there, we don't fully see what this scripture is saying. It goes on to say "according to His power that is at work within us."

God is able to do great things as His power works in us and through us! So it's not just about God doing things for you – He wants to do things through you. We are meant to be partners with God who participate in His plans, not merely spectators.

We have to stop wishing life would change and start taking action! We need to pray, spend time with God and study His Word, and as He speaks to our hearts, we need to step out in faith. I want to encourage you not to let fear keep you from moving forward. If you are afraid of making the wrong choice, then make a determined decision to take a step of faith – do it afraid! – and trust God to show you if you're going in the wrong direction. Because sometimes we can't find out what the right direction is until we step out and find out.

PARTICIPATE WITH PRUDENCE.

In Proverbs 1:1-5, we learn some of the main ways we hear God's voice as we seek Him. Verse 4 says, "That prudence (good judgment, astute common sense) may be given..." (AMP).

The Merriam-Webster online dictionary defines prudence as: "the ability to govern and discipline oneself by the use of reason; shrewdness in the management of affairs; skill and good judgment in the use of resources."¹ A prudent person is disciplined and a good manager. He won't waste his money, time, energy, talents or his words." We see this in the following scriptures:

- Proverbs 10:19 says the prudent person "controls his lips and keeps thoughtful silence."
- Proverbs 12:16 teaches that "the [arrogant] fool's anger is quickly known [because he lacks self-control and common sense], but a prudent man ignores an insult."
- And Proverbs 31:16 describes the prudent woman as one who carefully considers new opportunities before making a decision and uses her time in ways that benefit her.

These are just a few verses that reveal ways you can be prudent. I want to encourage you to study them and look up others that will help you get more revelation of how you can be prudent.

ARE YOU BUSY OR FRUITFUL?

God created you to live on purpose, for a purpose! He has not called you to be busy – He has called you to bear good fruit! He's given you free will so you can make good choices in every single area of your life.

It's easy to get caught up in the busyness of everyday life in the world we live in today. We all need to take time on a regular basis to think about how we're spending our time so we can evaluate whether we're being fruitful and making progress in the things we should be doing.

I like to do this before I go to bed at night. I think through the things I did that day to see what I accomplished. Doing this helps me discover anything that caused me to waste time and lose my focus on the things I needed to do.

Take time to honestly examine the way you're spending your time. Pray and ask God to reveal things that need to change, ways you can make better choices that line up with His wisdom, and then lean on Him for the strength to make changes. You'll find that as you make choices guided by the Spirit of God, you won't end up with regrets—you'll be fulfilled, peaceful and excited about how He is working in your life! 🙌

BY ANGUS BUCHAN

Proverbs 29:18 (NKJV) says, "Where there is no revelation, [a] the people cast off restraint;"

In other words, if you aim at nothing, you are sure to hit it. People, especially young people are looking for opportunities in life and are sincerely seeking truth and righteousness. I have just returned from doing a tour of most of the major university campuses in South Africa and every single time, I have seen young people who are seeking fulfilment, who are seeking direction, who are seeking a challenge, and a reason to live. They need a vision.

You see it is vision that gets you out of bed in the morning. It is vision that keeps you physically and spiritually in shape. That is why The Bible says that where there is no vision the people perish (They actually die). If you do not enjoy your work, then please change your occupation. You say you can't, because your mother and father have spent a lot of money on your education. Well your mother and father are not going to be here forever, but you are going to be here for a lot longer time than them. You need to tell them in love, that you are not fulfilled in the work you are doing and you want to persevere and fulfil the calling of God in your life. If that is to grow food to feed the hungry, or to minister medicine to the sick, or to teach the illiterate how to read and count, and most of all to tell the folk about Jesus Christ, then that is what you must do, because you will be doing that for the rest of your life.

We spend more time at work than doing anything else in our lives as human beings. It is imperative that your vision is something that excites you and motivates you. I can honestly tell you, my dear friend, that I am living my dream and by the grace of God my vision is being fulfilled. May the Lord bless you as you follow your heart and see your vision become a reality.

An English country cobbler had a desire to preach the gospel in India. He went with his family and it cost him a terrible price. He lost his wife and most of his children to sickness, but he never went back to England and at the end, that simple cobbler, just a man who repaired shoes, he couldn't even make shoes, started translating The Bible into the most difficult languages, e.g. Sanskrit, Hindustani and many others. His name was William Carey. He fulfilled his vision and as a result multitudes of people in India, the most populous country in the world, can read about Jesus Christ in their own language. Follow your dream.

I meet a lot of people who are very down hearted at the moment, because of the current situation in the Country, in fact the situation in the world at large. But we as "Followers of the Way," must see the climate in the world as a great opportunity to use for fulfilling our vision, a time to be used miraculously by our Heavenly Father to shine out for our Saviour.

We have a faithful saying at Shalom, "We must attempt things for God that are so big, that if they are not from Him they are doomed to fail. Why? You might ask. Because if they work, people will know that the vision was from God, because man is not capable of doing such great miracles."

God bless you
Angus Buchan

How to Share Your Faith on Social Media

BY PHIL COOKE

Social media is powerful. Recently journalists lost their jobs over their reckless use of words on social media. I have watched leaders bring pain to people by posting their opinion on social media

I find it fascinating that many people who handle social media for very large churches and ministries find it difficult to share their faith on their personal SM platforms. And others do it in an incredibly obnoxious way. But every new technology gives us another possibility for telling the greatest story ever told, but we have to do it with honesty and sincerity.

Krysta Masciale, CEO of Big Deal Branding puts it this way: "For me, it's important that I share as much on social media as I would in person. Since I don't speak about my faith until I've gained trust and been given permission to do so in a relationship, I use that same philosophy with my SM accounts. Also, know your audience. If Christians follow you and are expecting spiritual insights, GIVE IT TO THEM. If not, be aware that you're building a relationship, not trying to sell a car."

Krysta is exactly right. So I asked Kristen Tarsiuk, Creative Director + Community Pastor at Liberty Church Brooklyn to give us some suggestions about sharing our faith without screwing up the message. Here's her tips: Social media can be an extremely powerful tool, or noise. It can be a communication channel where we share our humanity encountering Christ, or it can be a polished pic from the platform. Social media can be a celebration of the goodness of God, or a "look how good I look" selfie. The choice is always ours. Here are three tips on how to share your faith on social media authentically.

1. Be relatable

As a pastor and creative director, I could post pics of creative meetings or me working on my message. My journey as a pastor, though unique, is significantly less relatable to most people. So for the past two years, I have chosen to share my journey of faith as a mom on social media.

It never fails, each week the posts I share of my son are conversation starters with other moms in my neighbourhood and church. It opens the door for trust and connection, and ultimately me sharing my reliance on Jesus, or an invitation to church.

Ask yourself, is what I am sharing relatable to non-believers? Not every post needs to point to the Gospel, but think about the story you are telling.

2. Post the pain

Don't be afraid to share those less than perfect moments of life, especially the ones when you personally need God to show up. Christians suffer. Non-believers suffer. Pain and suffering are a universal experience.

A few months ago my 3-year-old son had bladder surgery for a condition he has had since birth. My husband and I utilized our social feeds to share our journey. In post-op recovery we did a "Praise God – this journey is over!" type of post, thanking God for His goodness and faithfulness.

A few hours after arriving home (off the high of the Praise God post), Rocco's temperature sky-rocketed, and we found ourselves headed back to Children's Hospital. So at 2am we shared our pain and asked for prayers. At 3am, the fever broke. Then what we thought would be a couple day recovery, turned into weeks, with multiple posts saying things still aren't working.

I remember thinking, I don't want to be Debbie the Downer. Do people really want to know about my son's bladder? To my surprise they did. When we shared updates on social media, both our Christian and non-Christian friends would reach out letting us know we were in their thoughts and prayers. And when we shared the good news that Rocco was healed – both are Christians and non-Christian friends celebrated with us.

Be humble and human. Share the less than perfect moments of life. Our weaknesses are the perfect platforms for God's strength. Share that story.

3. Remember someone is always listening

The Apostle Paul wrote, "I have the right to do anything," you say—but not everything is beneficial. "I have the right to do anything"—but not everything is constructive. No one should seek their own good, but the good of others. – 1Corinthians 10:23-24 (NIV)

Yes, we have the right to emotionally process on social media. But is it beneficial? Yes, we can post selfies and polished pics of ourselves. But is it constructive?

Social media is powerful. Recently journalists lost their jobs over their reckless use of words on social media. I have watched leaders bring pain to people by posting their opinion on social media – not understanding the weight of the conversation they entered, or the hashtag they used. As believers, we are called to be a light. It is so important that we think before we post. Don't lose your testimony over a hashtag or a flippant tweet. Ask yourself, is this for the good of others, or am I just venting? Delete the vent, post the good.

I encourage all of us to use social media as a tool to share our faith. Be relatable. Share your humanity. Think before you post – because someone is always listening.

Three Things You Need When Filming on Location

BY PHIL COOKE

Over the years, I've produced and directed programming on location in more than 50 countries around the world. For everyone that spends lots of time on a film or video set – particularly in far away places – there are certain things you just don't leave behind. Novices could do well to learn what more experienced filmmakers consider "must have" items during a shoot. For me? The top 3 would probably be my laptop (I'm always writing), a raincoat, and a great bag. In fact, I'm a little obsessive about bags and have way more than I should. But on location, a bag is my office, so I'm not afraid to spend money for one that does what I need. So I asked some other experienced professionals what were the top 3 absolutely "must have" items they take to every location. Here's a few answers:

From Stu Hazeldine, Director of the upcoming feature film "The Shack:"

- ☒ Script in a leather binder.
- ☒ Director's Viewfinder.
- ☒ Blundstone boots.

From Lisa Swain, formerly Production Coordinator on films like "Big Fish," "Anger Management," and "Face/Off" and now Associate Professor of Cinema at Biola University:

- ☒ Sharpie.
- ☒ Swiss Army pocket knife.
- ☒ Chapstick.

From Korey Pollard, Assistant Director of "House," "Grey's Anatomy," "Nashville," "CSI," and "Monk:"

Charlie Peacock's West Coast Diaries.

- ☒ My Bible.
- ☒ AA meeting list.

And when I asked Ralph Winter, Producer of films like "X-Men," "Wolverine," "Planet of the Apes," and the upcoming "The Promise," and "Altered Carbon" from Netflix, he couldn't stick to 3 items, but since he produces $100 million plus movies in all kind of challenging conditions, I let him explain:

From years of traveling, I build several "go" bags, that are always ready. Probably too much to explain here. But for instance:

☒ Snow bag: heavy gear, sweat shirts, sweaters, hats, gloves, boots, various levels of socks, scarves, etc. Hockey size bag, good to -20 degrees. Ready for Fedx with manifest to any country.

☒ Computer gear: backup laptop updated exact copy of working laptop; backup drives (3); various cables, power supply for apartment, office, trailer; Apple TV; older but spare Apple Extreme for use in apartment; Blu-ray NTSC drive with USB for laptop (otherwise a problem in countries like Spain, which are PAL); computer repair tools (several packets).

☒ Phone gear: separate iPhone 6+ for local sim card (everything else syncs with iCloud and iTunes); phone repair tools and various covers.

☒ Passport, Global Entry, Nexus cards; local currency which I have built up over the years; never know when you need cash for taxi, or a favour.

☒ Reduce wallet size: I take only specific credits cards that I will use on location, leaving others at home so they don't get lost. Cards in my wallet I make of and keep copy in office and home, in case of loss.

☒ Always carry a pocket knife (good site for this is www.everydaycarry.com) but this is in packed luggage of course, along with cigar lighter, cutter, etc.

THE HABIT OF ALL

By Waldo Malan

I was reflecting on my own penchant to fall into all kinds of habits, and at first I thought I was unique in this, until I realized that all people are creatures of habit. This is not simply because we choose certain habits (although this is true), but really, just the way we were made. From birth to our death we are creatures of habit. When we first made our appearance on earth, we all got a slap, pinch or some other incentive from a doctor or nurse to take our first breath. And voilà, the habit of breathing is formed. After that we took on the habit of eating, sleeping, crying (later becoming a more intelligible communication), cleaning, and so forth. Throughout our lives we pile habit upon habit, not only to survive, but ultimately to make sense of this world we are in.

As we mature, the nature of our habits change, and they start having many, varied and far-reaching implications. Some habits are better than others, some are outright good for us, and yet others are totally destructive and evil to the core. This made me think about God, from whom, I believe, we all come. I believe God to be the Creator of all, and therefore, also the creator of me. In fact, it was Moses who recorded (by divine inspiration) the conversation in heaven where God decided to make people in His image and after His likeness. So, my reasoning says that if I know a little bit about God, I will also know a little bit about myself. Obviously, the more I get to know God, the more I get to know myself.

God is a God of habit. Many people in the past and present, have made the statement (after getting to know God), that He has always been, still is, and will forever be the same – He doesn't change. So what habits of God do I know about? Well, for one, He has the habit of being kind, good and loving. He has the habit of doing good. He has the habit of constantly seeking out my company. He has the habit of being just and fair. And He has the habit of displaying grace in His dealings with me.

People form habits, and as I've said, some are good and some are bad. The habit of eating is good since it keeps us alive, but at the same time we can form bad eating habits that will speed our death. Some stuff is outright bad for eating and will cause instantaneous death, preventing us from forming a habit with that! Many habits are destructive to our bodies, but then there are the habits that are destructive to our spirit and soul, and these effect the people around us, and ultimately our own future. It is for this reason that God encourages all people to follow His habits, and He even took the time to have His bestseller, The Book Of Habits, written for us. Habitual anger, resentment, taking of offense and unforgiveness are a few habits that will kill our spirit, deaden our perception and destroy our passion. Habitual peace, joy, gentleness and love, on the other hand, will revive our spirit and have a positive outflow in our body.

It would make sense therefore, that every now and then we take stock of the habits we have surrounded ourselves with, especially those habits we have come to regard as friends. Are they really friends? Are they really good for us? Do we really benefit from having them around? Then, after taking stock, make the decision for some Spring cleaning where needed, and rid ourselves of those who turn out to be unfriendly, ungainly and ultimately unwanted.

Let us get into the habit of examining our habits and clear out decisively those that hamper our vision and passion. Let us cultivate new habits that will encourage our creativity, energize our vigor, and regenerate our passion for life! Someone once said that first we make our habits, and then our habits make us! Success or failure? Which do you want? The philosopher Aristotle remarked, "We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act but a habit." ■

A Year of Living Adventurously

FULL & HALF YEAR OPTIONS
NOW AVAILABLE!

The concept of 'Extreme Education' was designed to provide a challenging environment for young people to discover and develop their leadership potential.

A gap year gives young people time to reflect on what they think would be the college/varsity or career choice best suited to their needs.

What makes your programme extreme and adventurous?

We offer students a wide range of extreme activities to participate in such as: scuba diving, mountain biking, abseiling, kayaking, paint ball, 4x4 off-road driving, etc.

What is the value of a gap year programme?

A gap year gives young people time to reflect on what they think would be the college/varsity or career choice best suited to their needs. It allows them to clarify their interests and become aware of their strengths and weaknesses.

We also believe a gap year allows them to take advantage of learning that takes place outside the classroom and apply these skills in real life situations, within a protected environment. It is imperative that youths experience life in communities different from those in which they have been living and our extreme gap year programme offers them this experience. We further believe that gap years allow students to learn about a variety of careers before making a critical decision and to gain maturity, initiative and resourcefulness, all valuable life skills.

What outcome do you hope is achieved in every student's life once completing your programme?

Our programme is designed to meet, challenge and grow the complete individual, body, soul and spirit, as we train tomorrow's leaders today. Our desire is for the young person to have fun and 'discover themselves' as they are developed into a person with vision and purpose. We endeavour to take boys and girls and to mould them into young men and women that will have a positive influence on our society and the world.

Describe how the programme works - when is your intake, how long does it last and how much does it cost?

The Beyond Adventure Extreme Leadership Gap Year Programme was launched in 2001. We are located 100 kilometres north east of Port Elizabeth in Alicedale. We are situated close to some of the great game reserves such as Addo Elephant Park and Shamwari. Our programme runs from mid January till the first week of December. The students are accommodated in rooms where they will learn to live with three other students.

Cost enquires and further info can be obtained from our offices as well as our website.

What makes your programme unique as opposed to other Gap year courses?

We believe the Beyond Adventure concept to be unique in South Africa. The concept of 'Extreme Education' was designed to provide a challenging environment for young people to discover and develop their leadership potential. Leadership deals with direction, vision, purpose and principles and our leadership programme focuses on building the students up, making them aware of other cultures, helping them with emotional bank account building and strengthening them as individuals functioning in a group context.

Most importantly, we run a programme that is founded on Biblical principles with Jesus Christ as the foundation stone.

Hello boys and girls

BY ESTHER SAUNDERS

Dear boys and girls,

Have you ever noticed how different people are? God made many different types of people all around the world, with different cultures and different lifestyles. Some are tall. Some are short. Some eat different foods. Some wear different clothes. Some talk different languages. Some act differently. Some have different colour skin. Even Lyric and I look very different from each other – even though we both have our daddy's smile. People all around the world are all different and unique in their own special way. That's how the good Lord made us. But we all have one very important thing in common though; God loves us all equally and we are called to be part of His family.

Recently Lyric and I learnt a new song at church called My God is good O. It's a song all the way from West Africa and has many different languages (English, Tshiluba, Swahili and Zulu) in it. It is a lot of fun to sing. Do you know any Christian songs in any other languages? We want to praise the Lord in as many languages as we possibly can.

Jesus died for people everywhere, those in different countries, who speak different languages and come from different tribes. Jesus loved them all and in the same way He wants us to love everyone too. Next time you see someone different, don't be afraid, show them that you too are a Christian full of God's love.

Prayer :

Dear Lord,
Help us to understand and follow your teachings you give us in the Bible. Help us to do our best in everything we do and to serve you with all our hearts. Amen

If ten girls were asked to describe the "perfect" girl, they would likely rattle off an eerily similar list of qualities - from hair, skin, and weight to a cute button nose. That's a problem, because God has given girls a desire to be desirable. If girls think that they will be most wanted if they fit a one-size-fits-all image of "perfection," they will continually chase that proverbial carrot their entire lives.

Backwards Beauty examines ten cultural lies young women listen to regarding beauty to help them unpack how they're looking at themselves through the wrong lens. The "tips to feel ugly" range from "compare yourself to every other girl" to "eat junk and diet, diet, diet."

Reading a book by Jessie Minassian is like sitting down with a friend and talking about the hard things in life. Girls will be able to find freedom and hope in the midst of a culture that idolizes beauty.

BATTLES ARE RAGING BETWEEN ANGELS AND DEMONS OVER YOU

John Hagee's breathtaking biblical tour of the three heavens takes you inside the timeless clash between the Kingdom of Light and the Kingdom of Darkness and explains why that battle makes all the difference in this world and the world to come.

In The Three Heavens, Hagee uses the Word of God, science, and incredible true stories of the supernatural to explore the First Heaven. He then exposes Satan's diabolical tactics in the Second Heaven and how they affect each one of us. Finally, he looks at the deep riches of the Third Heaven and how our hope of that eternal home changes our life on earth.

Put an end to "busyness as usual."

Sometimes being busy seems like the theme of your life, and it's overwhelming. At other times, telling people you're busy makes it sound like you matter - as if you are extra important. Either way, a crazy busy life isn't what God intended when He sent His Son to give you life to the full.

Who better to write on busyness than a best-selling author, full-time senior pastor, conference speaker, loving husband, and dedicated father?! It's no wonder Kevin DeYoung knows how to break the "busyness as usual" mindset - he's had years of experience being way too busy!

With his trademark humour and winsome candour, Kevin helps you find a better way forward in his book, Only 24 Hours! Offering ways to tackle your schedule, suggestions to reclaim your sanity, and a lot of encouragement to remember your soul, Only 24 Hours! strikes the desperately needed balance between doing nothing and doing it all.

Sound Mind

Dove Award nominated Planetshakers Band has a new album out, the project titled Overflow was recorded at the Planetshakers annual spring conference in Melbourne, Australia and features 15 new songs that were co-written by the band and produced by worship leader Joth Hunt. Planetshakers will also release a deluxe edition of the project that includes seven music videos from songs on the album, including a live version of the radio single "I Know Who You Are".

"Overflow captures a week of 'God-moments' that were recorded live from the 2016 Planetshakers Conference," explains Planetshakers Church Senior Pastor Russell Evans. "It was an incredible experience. On the one hand, there may have been 15,000 registered attendees singing praise anthems such as 'River' and 'Come Right Now'... then on the other hand, there were such intimate worship moments that it felt like it was just you and Jesus in the room. Our prayer is that this collection of songs blesses and uplifts your spirit and puts the focus heavenwards."

Without Rival by Bevere Lisa

There is a reason we look at others as rivals and limit ourselves to comparison and competition. We have an enemy assaulting our mind, will, and emotions in the hope that we'll turn on ourselves and each other. It's a cycle that isolates us from intimate connections, creates confusion about our identity, and limits our purpose. In Without Rival, bestselling author Lisa Bevere shares how a revelation of God's love breaks these limits. You'll learn how to stop seeing others as rivals and make the deep connections with your Creator you long for--connections that hold the promise of true identity and intimacy.

With biblically sound teaching filled with prophetic insight for our day, Lisa uses humor and passion to challenge you to

- Flip rivalry so it brings out the best in you;
- Stop hiding from conversations you need to be a part of;
- Answer the argument that says women are unfit, easily deceived, and gullible;

- Dismantle gender rivalry and work with the men in your life.

It's time to step forward to live a life without rival.

JOHN G LAKE MINISTRIES

MONDAY - FRIDAY

9:30

'Excerpt from: "The Azusa Street Revival" by Roberts Liardon – P.204-205

"Although he (Lake) founded a number of institutions, they never gained the widespread prominence of other similar ministries. His daughter, Gertrude, and her husband, Wilford Reidt, carried on his ministry until late in their lives when they officially passed the ministry to a young minister named Curry Blake. Blake had been run over by a car as a baby, but while in the hospital, his mother prayed for him and he miraculously recovered with barely any sign of what was thought to be a life-threatening injury. Unknown to the Blake family at the time, this event occurred exactly 25 years after Lake had given a prophecy about a successor who would come 25 years later. Blake has begun to rebuild Lake's ministries and vision. Many claim Lake as a spiritual influence, but Blake's success in the healing ministry, as well as the extent of his vision of Christianity is uniquely reminiscent of Lake himself."

Born April 1, 1959 in Jasper, TX. At 17 months of age Curry was hit by an automobile in the driveway of his grandparent's home. Curry's father did not see him as he was backing out. The car ran over his head, ripping his right ear off. The car's wheel pinched his scalp to the point that it ripped from his right ear to his left ear. This ripping caused his scalp to be pulled down across his forehead to the top of his eyes.

Curry's grandfather came out of the house, picked Curry up, picked up his ear, put him in his truck and drove him to the hospital. The doctor's told Curry's mother to buy a casket and plan his funeral because there was no way he could survive such extensive brain damage.

Curry's mother, a Pentecostal, began to pray. She told God that if He would spare Curry's life, she would raise him and train him to serve Him. The doctors came out of surgery to tell her that if he lived, he would be completely handicapped and that someone would have to care for him the rest of his life. The doctors went back to surgery and Curry's mother went back to praying. This time she said, "God, if you're going to let him live, then heal him completely."

After some time, the doctors returned saying, "Well, we can't find any signs of brain damage, but, if he lives and even if he doesn't have any brain damage, he will never have any hair and he will never hear out of his right ear." Once again his mother began praying. She told God, that if He was going to let Curry live, that he would be of no use to Him unless he was completely healed.

Today, Curry is totally and perfectly healed. He has at least an average IQ and a full head of hair and perfect hearing in both ears. At 17 years of age, Curry enlisted in the U.S. Air Force as a Security Police, Law Enforcement Specialist.

During his term of enlistment, God began to deal with him about answering the call to ministry. After some time he decided to go with his heart. He began to pray about being released from his enlistment contract. Within 3 days, Curry was called to the C.O.'s office, where he was informed that there were too many Security Police at that time and that he had a choice of either changing fields or receiving an Honorable Discharge with full G.I. benefits. Curry took the latter. After his discharge, Curry went home to share the news with his father and mother that he was going to preach. When he told them what had happened, his parents told him how he had been given to God 17 years earlier. He had known about the accident, and how God had delivered him, but he had not known about his mother's dedicating him to God. Within 1 year he was married and had a child on the way.

By 1983 Curry and his wife had 3 children. Over the years, God has done many wonderful things in the Blake's lives. Below are just a few of them.

Curry's father, Johny F. Blake, has been a Police Officer, Narcotics Detective, Chief of Police, and an Internal Affairs Officer with The State of Texas Department of Corrections.

Today, Curry's father is a saved, spirit-filled, man of God.

Emmanuel Church is a Bible-believing, Christ-centred and Spirit-driven church. Whilst we have a passion for the lost and broken, we make every effort to reach the lost through missions and to reach out to our fellow believers in love. We have a mandate to not only to impact our neighbourhood, but our city, our country and our world.

Matt Ludick has been the Senior Pastor of Emmanuel Church since 2004. He is married to Lisa and has three beautiful daughters, Mignon, Alexa and Klarissa, as well as a son, Edwin Bo, who is their youngest. He has a passion for God, God's glory and is devoted to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He enjoys fishing, whether it be at Von Bach dam or fishing for Jesus!

Africa's FAITH BROADCASTING NETWORK set to launch on-demand programming and 2 streaming channels on Truli.com

LOS ANGELES, CA - Truli Media Group, Inc., parent company of Truli.com, a global internet TV network featuring inspirational faith and-family entertainment, today announced that FAITH BROADCASTING NETWORK will begin streaming FaithAfrica (Africa and International platform) and FlowTV (United Kingdom platform) on Truli.com. On-Demand original programs and specials will also be added to Truli's platform.

FAITH BROADCASTING NETWORK underscores the commitment to being a relevant voice in a society that needs to know God's unchanging message of hope which is reflected in their programming. FAITH BROADCASTING NETWORK is broadcast through FaithAfricaDSTv 341, FlowTV (Sky UK 595) covering the United Kingdom and parts of Europe, as well as FaithTerrestrial (Sentech Southern Africa). FaithAfrica has exciting global partnerships with major Christian television networks and an extensive lineup of the most in demand international programmers, original shows, Christian movies and children's content. The addition of FaithAfrica and FlowTV programming will greatly expand the viewing choices offered by Truli's faith and family network.

Dr. André Roebert, President of FAITH BROADCASTING NETWORK is thrilled to partner with Truli.com. "We have seen the hand of God at work since the launch of our first channel nearly 15 years ago. Every new avenue we add to our broadcast signature, is exciting for us since it is expanding the vision of God to bring hope to nations across the world. These days good news is almost drowned out by the general negativity of global media, and we are excited to be able to add our voice and see people inspired, encouraged and connected to the message of hope."

Michael Jay Solomon, Truli's Founder and Chairman welcomes the addition of FaithAfrica and FlowTV to Truli. "FAITH BROADCASTING NETWORK has grown exponentially over the past 5 years and reaches over 50 million people around the world. We are extremely pleased to add these two internationally respected channels to Truli's growing programming lineup." Paul Crouch Jr., a longtime friend and supporter of the network's founders, Dr. André and Jenny Roebert, says "We are beyond honored that FAITH BROADCASTING NETWORK has added Truli to the family of global television network partners that share their passion to share the gospel of Jesus Christ around the world."
